Dulness in Business Giving Opportunity for Discussion.

THE THOUGHT OF THE STREET.

A Direct Issue Between the Public and the Government.

CURRENT RESULTS.

FRIDAY, March 6 -5 P. M.

We are living in a record of repetition, in so far as the Wall street situation from day to day may be said to illustrate current business. There seems to be a contest among the days as to which shall be the dullest, and each as it enters itself in the account of Time very properly claims the championship. In such case there is opportunity for the discussion of general principles that are now the theme of special interest. And these general principles are at present involved in a great crisis. The result of the debate in Congress will probably determine whether we shall be admitted into

THE INNER CIRCLE OF FINANCIAL TROUGHT Europe or must yet longer remain in wardship. In other words, whether we are able to stand alone or need foreign support. In this connection the attention of this column has been called to a printed circular, headed "Important closures About the Financial Position of the United States," in which we are threatened with some terrible evil from the Dutch bankers if we don't do something, not clearly explained, to meet their requirements. These good, worthy souls-eminently respectable citizens, we have no doubt—seem to have jumped at the conclusion, probably from reading Mayor Havemeyer's recent messages, that this is yet a Dutch city. Perhaps they think Hendrik Hudson is still Governor, and that the metropolis con tinues to bear the name of New Amsterdam. Al this has been changed. And here is precisely their error. It is not we next year or this year who will be begging Europe for money, but rather EUROPE THAT WILL BE SEEKING EMPLOYMENT FOR ITS SURPLUS CAPITAL.

The money rate is low now in all the European centres. The payment of the French indemnity drew out of hiding an enormous amount of coin that had been withdrawn from circulation for years. That money remained still out of circulation during the process of recoinage, but it is now rapidly coming out again in payment for the extensive military and naval works Germany is engaged in, and is returning to the bank centres. The Bank of France already begins to show an enormous increase of coin and the Bank of England a rising MONEY MUST SEEK RE-EMPLOYMENT.

Turkey, Egypt, Honduras and other countries do not offer the same security as does the United States. Hence the money will gravitate here, and if our Western friends will only possess their souls in patience for a few months longer the chances are they will have all the inflation they want without increasing the currency.

Persistence has merit, but the writer does not seek to attain only that in discussing the existing relations between the Treasury of the United States and the people of this country. He is either right or he is wrong, and his desire is to be right. The question is simply stated.

HAS THE CONDED DEBT OF THE UNITED STATES BEEN INCREASED CONTRARY TO LAW? The debt statement shows that it has. Is this debt statement a fair exposition of the actual condition of the national fluances from month to month, or are the slurs that have been cast from time to time upon "Treasury keeping" well founded? An explanation of the "seeming discrepancy" is made, that there being sufficient reason of a political and financial nature to call for the sale of gold this month, the last call of bonds for $5,000,000, which expired January 1, is still borne on the account under the head of "debt bearing interest in coin," instead of being transferred to the account of "debt upon which interest has ceased since maturity," where after February 1 it properly belonged. The object of this would be to prevent the appearance of such an excessive lien upon the gold balance of the Treasury as would render the effort at selling gold inexcusable from a sound financial standpoint, and so embarrass the efforts of the politicians. There is this much inference of truth in this explanation, that, as no one doubts Mr. Richardson's honesty in the administration of his department, and even accepting the limited capacity for which Wall street gives him credit, this increase could not have been made without his knowledge; it is safe to assume it was done un-

THE DOMINANT PARTY ARE RESPONSIBLE for this, as they are for the dalliance with the financial question. In looking over the debt state-ment again we find the called bonds carried on the account are stated at over $8,000,000. We had been arguing upon a much less figure. This increases the discrepancy. Is this $3,000,000 borne pose? Have we $8,000,000 outstanding called bonds upon which interest has ceased, and $8,000,000 increase of the debt earning interest? Does the statement tell us the actual condition of affairs? Certainly this $8,000,000 cannot be the same in both accounts. It either bears interest or it does not. In the meantime, parodying Macau. ley's favorite example, we would like to empty a first class in arithmetic of a New York primary school into the Treasury Department, and see if they would not give us more englightenment.

GOLD RANGED to-day from 111% to 111%, closing at 111% without developing anything of special interest. The carrying rate ranged from 2 to 3) per cent. The Sub-Treasury paid out to-day $111,000 in payment

Corpos on the spot was in moderate demand, but holders were firm in their views and generally continued to offer sparingly in anticipation of better prices. Grades poorer than good ordinary, however, were unsalable and wholly nominal it value. A somewhat improved inquiry from exporters was noticeable, but the high pretensions of sellers prevented a more considerable business with this class of buyers. We quote:

THE NEW POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Mayor Havemeyer's nomination of Mr. George Mayor Havemeer and the transfer of the Tax Commis-sioners, to fill the vacancy caused by the demise of Henry Smith, late President of the Board of Police Commissioners, was an earnest topic of conversa tion in political circles and about the City Hail yesterday. Everybody has thus far expressed a yesterday. Everybody has thus far expressed a favorable opinion of the nominee, as it is conceded that he is not only a competent, but a strictly honest man. The members of the Common Council, several of whom have been interrogated by a Herald reporter, are loath to express any opinion whether, at the ensuing session of the Board of Aldermen, March 19, when the nomination is to be acted upon, Mr. Andrews will be confirmed or rejected.
